Resting within a world forever anchored to a moment of yesterday lie the gates to the antechamber of tomorrow. Within these gates is a selected, perhaps even artificial society out of which the threats of yesterday will either be perpetuated like the anchored world or turned into promises that will be kept upon a thousand tomorrows.

This is a chronicle of that society—of that time, that place—the rites, rituals, and routines that shall, in time, perpetuate the threats or keep the promises. Somehow the insanity of registration lines, missed curfews, non-computed course schedules, the hours, the people will all make a difference. Somehow demonstrations, bitch-be-and love-ins, the selective service sword of Damocles, all nighters, electric bananas and electronic carillons, LSD and 11 cent cokes will work their strange magic and this “day in the life” will make a difference—somehow.

An old proverb notes that the evaluation of a loss is calculated, not so much by what we have lost, as by what we have left. In this light, despite the scores, U.R.I. can boast of a most successful and exciting football season, for even the technical losses to such adversaries as Maine and Temple were tactical triumphs of defensive and passing maneuvers. When the individual scores are lost from memory, the sheer thrill of a game well played will long be remembered. This is what we have left and in the last evaluation this is what will matter the most.

Running the race set before us was not a singularly successful endeavor for the U.R.I. Cross Country team this season despite some impressive individual efforts. Although the season ended upon a somewhat dismal note, to intimate that the Harriers seem to have "run out of steam" is to overlook the incredible stamina and endurance required and displayed by the team. With the infusion of some of the energy displayed by this year's Freshman Cross Country team, next season should provide Rhody's adversaries with some tough competition.

According to Montaigne, "There are some defeats more triumphant than victories" and this season's U.R.I. soccer team would seem to bear him out. Although the season was not notable for its victories, the soccer team, composed largely of sophomores and juniors, is certainly to be commended for those triumphs of sportsmanship and teamwork which the scoreboard does not record. With outstanding Steve Collis, Yankee Conference high scorer, and with some good up and coming freshmen, the team can look forward to a very exciting season next year.

In what has been termed a rebuilding season after the major manpower loss of last year, the U.R.I. rams distinguished themselves not by uniform success but rather by sporadic flashes of superior teamwork. Although somewhat overshadowed by the brief but blazing debate as to Coach Ernie Calverly's coaching competence, the season did see a fantastic finale in the 87-86 victory over the Yankee Conference champions, the University of Connecticut. The 18 foot jump shot delivered by sophomore Dick Jenkins as the buzzer sounded brought the rams victory in a game where Rhody had trailed the Huskies by as much as 19 points. With fewer losses in the offing for next season, including, regrettably, the outstanding Don Kaull, the rams should enjoy a more uniformly successful year of basketball.

Despite the adversities of inadequate facilities and equipment and the announcement that Varsity Rifle competition in the Yankee Conference will be abandoned next year, Coach Garron and the Rhody Rifle team emerged from the season undaunted and with a very commendable record. The rifle team placed first in the Southern Group with a perfect 6-0 record and third in the New England College Rifle League Championship. Leading shooters on the varsity squad listed by Sgt. Garron were Dick Galli, captain; John Georges, Bill Rafferty, Ray Stillwell, Paul Richmond, Charles Lacallade, Don Andrews, Bruce Felmy and Jay Kapsinow. Although the eight matches scheduled for next season are tentative, the infusion of some remarkable freshmen will assure the Rifle team continued success.

After a spirited beginning which went from a tie with Boston College to a crushing defeat for Brown, the dream of topping the Yankee Conference for the first time since 1947 dissolved into oblivion with seven straight losses. Although concern was initially expressed over the rams' hitting, the grief seemed to emanate more from the pitching than from anything else.

All was not grim, however, and the professional spirit of the ballclub under the able leadership of junior Bob McKenny, along with the hitting of Jack Coppolino and the improvement of Les Goff and Ed DaCruz, were sources of satisfaction and consolation to Coach Butler, who has bright hopes for next season.

Although not a consistently memorable season for the Rhody Russelmen, this year did host several outstanding performances by individuals on the U.R.I. track team. Especially noteworthy was the record breaking hammer throw of Bob Narcessian, whose 200 foot, one-half inch fling broke the 1938 University record by almost 16 feet. Bob was also first place winner in the NCAA hammer throw.

The track team also provided some stiff competition for the Yankee Conference title, but again took a third place behind UMass and UConn despite such individual triumphs as the Relay team's topping of its own record of 3:25.6 with a 3:24.3, Pete Whitfield's winning of the 440 yard intermediate hurdle, and the conference records set by Bob Narcessian for hammer throw and David Klein for shot put.

With a superior team oftentimes applause says more than commentary and this season's U.R.I. golfers are a case in point. Coach Paul F. Cieurzo and the golf team can certainly take pride in a fine season which saw the Yankee Conference crown come to Kingston for the third time in five years. Undeclared in eleven matches, Bruce Morin, Paul Quigley, Dana Quigley, Kevin Hoban, Charlie Toscano, Paul Johnson and Drew Clarke have shown Rhody's superiority on the fairways and greens, bringing home a second place in the New England Inter-collegiate Golf Championship.

Although denied University recognition as a varsity sport and despite the loss of two shells to the Thames River in New London due to violent gusts of wind, the crew team, especially the frosh crew, displayed stamina and spirit unequalled in the sport's two year history at U.R.I. Under coach Dr. Ralph Kopperman the varsity teams scored several impressive victories and the fifth place taken by the freshman crew club in the seventh annual Rusty Callow Memorial Rowing Association Regatta is not entirely indicative of the promise the freshman have shown this season. The outlook for even greater success in the future is excellent.

The tradition of men who go down to the sea in ships runs deep in the veins of all New England, but in Varsity Sailing no state has been able to hold a sail to Coach Edward Caswell's skippers at U.R.I., and this year was no exception. Off to a mild start with a very respectable 4th place in the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Sailing Association's Invitational Regatta at Annapolis and a 4th in the Geiger Trophy Regattas, the Rhody skippers moved up to a 2nd in the NEISA dingy eliminations. By Yankee Conference time, the team was at full sail to win the seventh straight Yankee Conference title for U.R.I., thanks in large measure to Manny Read, skipper, and his alternating crew, Mac Cuddy and Dom Quadrini, and Bill Johnson and his crew, Bob Jones. In sailing, Rhode Island incontestably rules the waves.

While reflection grinds the grist of chaos into order and beats back boundaries with meaning, it is the everyday activities, the involvement with this time and place and its opportunities and necessities that gives purpose and direction to that meaning. In active participation and contribution there is a kind of immortality which transcends the insignificance of the task and which is given freely to those courageous enough to man the controls and compel the machinery of living to obey.

UNION BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The Union has been called the hearthstone of the campus and the quantity and especially the quality of this year's program would seem to more than justify the metaphor. The many enjoyable memories of this year's union activities are in themselves tributes to the hard work and careful planning of the Union Board of Directors.

BLUE KEY

The Blue Key Society has once again proven that U.R.I.'s honorary host organization performs a greater service than merely welcoming guests to the campus. This year's Blue Key Charity Bazaar, one of the most successful ever, is indicative of the society's concern not only for the campus, but for the community as well.

LAURELS

Laurels, Senior Women's Honor Society, enjoyed an especially rewarding year at U.R.I., culminating in the group's acceptance as a chapter of the national honor society, Motar Board. This accomplishment represents years of hard work of which Laurels and the university can be justifiably proud.

The task of publishing a yearbook for a large and diverse campus is an infinitely complex problem, for it must be 6000 things to 6000 individuals. If, however, in future years these pages can convey something of what it was to be here at this time and place, then perhaps the Grist will have more than fulfilled its purpose.

*"In these times we fight for ideas,
and newspapers are our fortresses."*

—Heine

The power of the press stems not so much from imaginative layout and comprehensive coverage—both long-standing attributes of the U.R.I. Beacon—as from the tone of the editorial page. If the job of a newspaper is to stimulate as well as inform, this year's Beacon must certainly be considered a success.

ORCHESIS

OPEN HOUSE

The opening of the University's doors on a special day serves as but a token and a reminder of the innumerable mind-confining doors unlocked in this place during the past seventy-five years.

In retrospect, a day of paradox,

PRESIDENT JOHNSON

*Of pride, of protest
patriotism,
pettiness,
and
fresh paint.*

*The honor of the presidential presence;
The absurdity of faculty medicare*

serve to remind again of the distinction between the office and the man and the separate honor that each demands.

MARTIN LUTHER KING

In the meeting of mind with mind we learn never to expect a satisfactory answer from others until we are courageous enough to ask ourselves the right questions.

Do we really want to overcome someday?

WAYNE MORSE

And we hear, but do we understand?

WALTER REUTHER

"What good is splitting the atom unless you can find a way to relate this to the basic human values."

—Reuther

VAN CLIBURN

Music is the universal language for it speaks to the soul and its message is both joyous and profound.

It is magic.

SAMMY DAVIS, JR.

The secret of the magic is to draw us out of ourselves in spite of ourselves.

*When shall we learn, what should be clear as day,
We cannot choose what we are free to love?
Although the mouse we banished yesterday
Is an enraged rhinoceros today,
Our value is more threatened than we know.*

—Auden

W. H. AUDEN

There is a ritual quality in the chant of language and its power is miraculous.

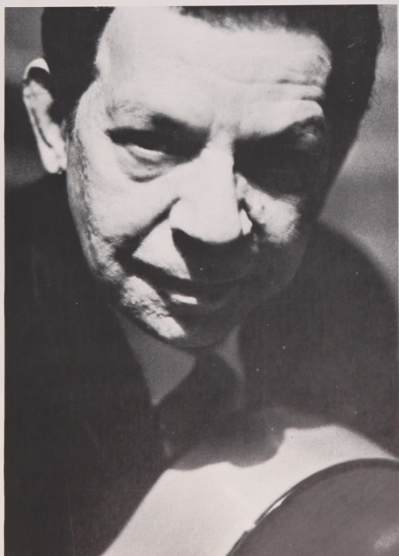

SABICUS

A miracle can be the intervention of a solitary chord in the chaos of time . . .

*and it is order and meaning
and an everlasting now.*

PITTSBURGH SYMPHONY

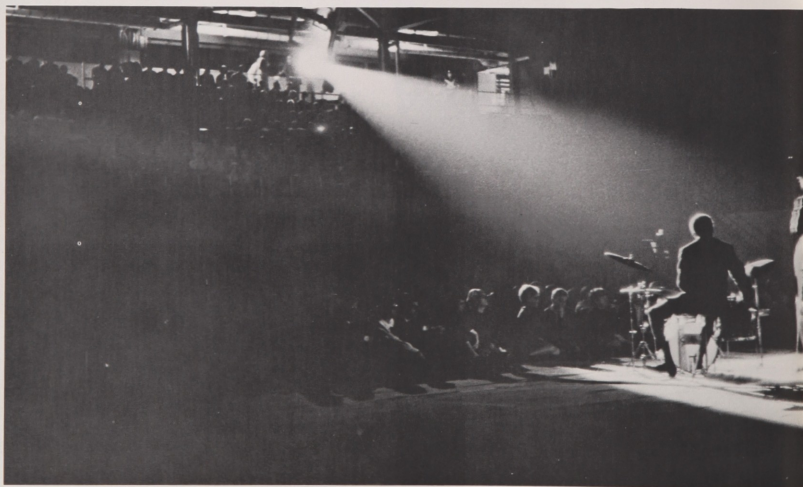

The resplendent geometry of sound . . .

*The glorious song.
These can teach our souls to fly.*

STOCKHOLM UNIVERSITY CHORUS

RAMSEY LEWIS TRIO

Music is mystery that asks only to jump the synapse of space and time

to reveal itself.

SERENDIPITY SINGERS

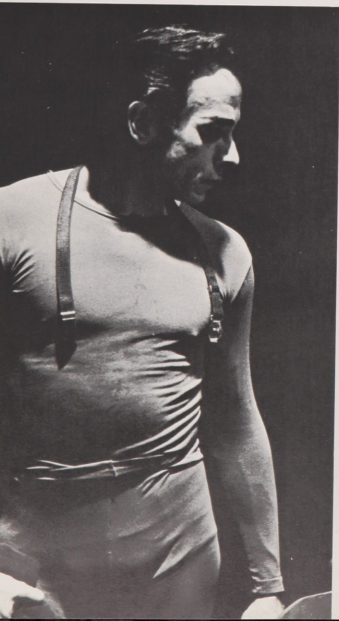

And music is a happening,

for it lavishes its gifts upon us even when we do not actively seek them.

NATIONAL BALLET

"Gracefulness has been defined to be the outward expression of the inward harmony of the soul."

—Hazlett

UNIVERSITY THEATRE

For a people who no longer can believe, not even in themselves, the magic illusion can still effect a kind of catharsis . . .

for through that "willing suspension of disbelief," the ritual of pretending, the restorative power of play, can touch the wellspring of the soul . . .

and make the waters stir once more.

The teacher of knowledge can direct a mind toward the grandeur of the measureless caverns and then bid it farewell.

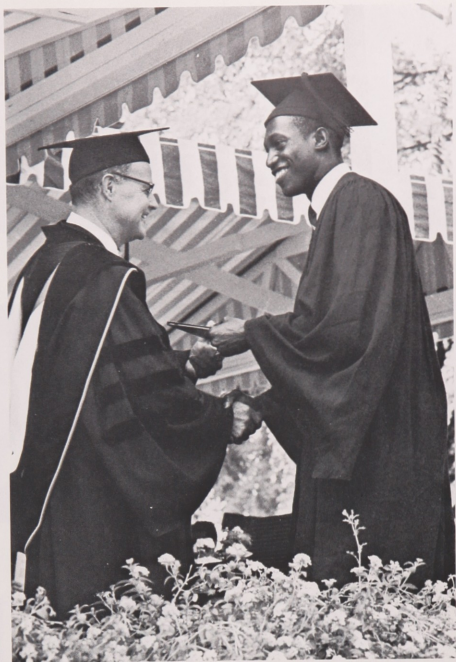

The teacher of wisdom will lead the mind there and bid ignorance farewell, for knowledge alone is but a cymbal and its discordant conceit can deafen the mind, but wisdom is a symphony and its humility rings out in its whispers.

Now beyond the gates, beyond the world anchored forever to yesterday is tomorrow and the promises of this "day in the life" will be kept—or not kept. But it will work its magic and will make a difference—somehow. And tomorrow it will be the same . . . and we will remember.

If you're good enough

I WANT YOU

And they asked us, "Whither goest thou?"

But can there be hope of reply?
... Unsure that there can be;
One strums on a star-spangled scythe
Singing, "Come Children, and go where I send thee."

And why?

"Whither goest thou?"

The 1967 Grist is perhaps the most informal Grist yet produced. The idea of trying to create an informal yearbook was intriguing from the start, and, within certain limits, a measure of informality has been attained.

The most difficult barriers to overcome in this quest for an effective, yet informal, Grist have been the size of the book, which is too large for a small group to produce efficiently, and its traditional functions as a student directory, and a rush and date book for the student body.

The yearbook is an entirely student produced publication. The Grist staff is responsible for all layout, copy, and photography. The only exceptions to this are a few photographs which were supplied by the University Office of Publications, and the photographs of Sammy Davis, which were supplied by the courtesy of Mr. Robert Izzo of the University's Public Relations office.

All photography was accomplished by 35 mm cameras, with the exception of the color work in the opening section which was done with a 2¼ x 2¼ camera.

The book is printed on a dull coat enamel paper of 80 pound stock.

All the art work and the cover were designed by staff members.

The 1967 Grist is the product of many hours of effort by numerous people who are not compensated for their efforts in any way. However, I would like to give special thanks to King, Buzz and Mary Jane, who really made this book possible.
